

First National Rio Grande Congratulates Melissa Gonzales on Promotion to Senior Vice President, Treasury Management Director

First National Rio Grande is pleased to announce the promotion of Melissa Gonzales to Senior Vice President and Treasury Management Director. Melissa has over 16 years of experience in Banking and Financial Services with a particular focus on developing innovative product and service offerings catering to the needs of the local business community. Melissa joined First National Rio Grande in 2012 as the Vice President of Treasury Management. As Senior Vice President and Treasury Management Director, Melissa will lead a team of Treasury Management sales professionals who consult with business clients in the New Mexico and Colorado markets.

A native New Mexican, Melissa received a BBA in Accounting from the Anderson School of Management at the University of New Mexico. She is on the board of the Central New Mexico Community College Foundation.

In her new role at First National Rio Grande, Melissa is most looking forward to coaching a talented team of Treasury Management bankers to establish relationships that span every stage of their clients' business life cycle. Her primary focus is on listening to the needs of businesses and focusing on what matters most – superior service quality that delivers effective solutions for her clients.

About First National Rio Grande

The First National Family of Banks is comprised of First National Denver, First National Rio Grande and First National Santa Fe. On November 1, 2013 the charters of Mile High Banks in Denver, Colorado and Bank of the Rio Grande in New Mexico were consolidated under our single existing charter, First National Bank of Santa Fe. As the first bank in the Southwest, our charter represents a rich heritage of community commitment and financial strength and stability dating back to 1870.